

BRITISH GENERAL ELECTION STUDY 1987

P.934/SN

Summer, 1987

Dear Sir or Madam,

After every British general election a book is published about the outcome and issues, based on interviews with people selected at random from the electoral registers all over Britain. Your name has been selected for the 1987 study, and we wish to interview you if at all possible.

Once a name has been selected from the registers, we are not permitted to take a substitute. So, even if you did not vote or even if you, like many people, are not that interested in politics, we still want to talk to you. No special knowledge is needed to answer our questions. The interview is about all sorts of issues on which the experience of ordinary voters and non-voters matters more than the views of 'experts'.

A few facts about the study:

We are a team from Oxford University and an independent national research institute - Social and Community Planning Research - who have been invited to carry out a study and to write a book on the 1987 election. We did this after the 1983 election too.

As in 1983, we are seeking to interview 4,000 people in 250 constituencies throughout England, Scotland and Wales.

The study is entirely impartial and is not connected with any political party or government department. It is funded by the Sainsbury Charitable Trusts, the Economic and Social Research Council and Pergamon Press.

Your answers, along with those of others we interview, will be published in the form of overall summaries. But we will, of course, keep your name strictly confidential.

All our interviewers will have a card to identify themselves.

The interview should not last longer than an hour and in many cases it will be shorter.

We are confident you will enjoy the interview, but if not, you may stop at any stage. So, even if you are uncertain that you will have the time (or patience!) to answer all the questions, do please allow the interviewer to start and see how you get along.

Feel free to contact me or Sharon Witherspoon at the above address if you have any queries. I do hope you will help us.

Yours faithfully,

Professor Roger Jowell

To the selected respondent:

- Thank you very much for agreeing to take part in this important study of the British general election. This study is the eighth in the series of election studies which have taken place after every British general election since 1964. The study consists of an interview and this self-completion questionnaire
- Completing the questionnaire The questions inside cover a wide range of subjects, but each one can be answered simply by placing a tick (✓) or writing a number in one or more of the boxes provided. No special knowledge is needed: we are sure that everyone will be able to offer an opinion on all questions. And we want all people to take part, not just those with strong views or particular viewpoints. The questionnaire should not take long to complete, and we hope you will find it interesting and enjoyable. It should be completed only by the person interviewed about the election by our interviewer. And, of course, your participation will be treated as confidential and anonymous
- Returning the questionnaire Your interviewer will arrange with you the most convenient way of returning the questionnaire. If the interviewer has arranged to call back for it, please complete it and keep it safely until then. If not, please complete it and post it back to us in the pre-paid addressed envelope as soon as you possibly can.

Thank you for your help.
